COSI began with Uncle Cosimo, a devoted dairy farmer in beautiful Western Australia who started each day milking with care, alongside his loyal dog and cat. After each milking, he would share a little of the fresh milk with them—a simple gesture that became a daily bond of trust and love.

This humble ritual became the foundation of COSI: a brand built on care, purity, and the joy of giving pets something truly wholesome. Today, that same spirit continues in every carton, inviting pet owners to share a little love with their companions.
